A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/28/05 has been entered.

As noted previously, the response filed 7/14/05 amended some claims and cancelled others. Claims 382-402 are now pending; these are provided in the claim listing filed 10/28/05.

As explained in the previous Office action (mailed 9/28/05), the amendment filed 7/14/05 was held to be "non-responsive", given the restriction mailed 5/2/03, and the response thereto filed 6/2/03.

However, in view of the filing of the "RCE", applicants have the option of electing new species. And if the claims (as filed 10/28/05) are to be retained, a new election will be required.

Applicants are required under 35 U.S.C. §121 to elect disclosed species (as follows) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

a) a specific peptide, in which all chiral centers are specified (presumably applicants will elect DAHK, in which all amino acids are of the "L" configuration);

b) a specific disease with which the animal is afflicted and which the method is endeavoring to ameliorate the adverse effects of (e.g., Alzheimers, MS, or Parkinsons);

c) a specific cell type or tissue which is "damaged" by the reactive oxygen species;

d) a specific manifestation of the damage to the elected cells or tissue (e.g., damage to DNA, damage to cell membranes, or oxidation of side chains of amino acids present in proteins)

Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a generic claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are witten in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentable distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. §103 of the other invention.
